

Roman Kitchen Objects (Set 1) – Bronze

This first set of Roman era kitchen utensil contains 7 historically accurate items; Cauldron, Water heater, Grate, Drawer, Casserole, Pot and Small saucepan. These objects are based on artifacts found in excavations in several parts of Italy (Rome, Orvieto, Imola) were the normal endowment of the Pompeian and Roman kitchens. Their appearance is approximately of I° century a.c to arrive at III , IV century d.c.

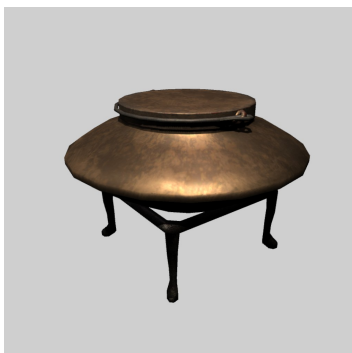

Several authors (Apicio, Giovenale, Petronio, Columella, Plinio il Vecchio) have described the ingredients and preparation of ancient Roman cuisine and these objects are part of their description.

Cauldron

Open bronze vase with a rounded bottom, placed on a tripod to heat the water and characteristic of Etruscan production. Usually in the domus they worked on the embers with a tripod.

Model with 1402 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 2048x2048
HDRP accepted
Model divided into two parts. Rotatable handle

Water heater

Bronze vessel with three elements: wide base and convex bottom, choke under the mouth, grip with movable handle. Often with lid. Lenticular in shape. Present in many Roman homes, for various types of soups.

Model with 822 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted
Model divided into three parts. Rotatable handle

Grate

Similar to today, in iron. Model with handle.

Model with 341 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted

Drawer

Bronze vessel consisting of a bowl and a handle, one-piece or separate, with an ortho or long, curved or straight handle. To draw liquids and solids together, such as sauces, olives, etc.

Model with 248 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted

Casserole

Bowl in bronze or silver with bowl and flat handle, manufactured in one piece. The handle is sometimes slightly raised at the mouth, rarely inclined downwards. Sometimes with decorations on the grip elements.

Model with 296 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted

Pot

Large mouth bronze vessel with convex base and cylindrical, truncated cone or spheroidal belly.

Model with 320 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted

Small saucepan

Large mouth bronze vessel with cylindrical base and belly. Used like modern cookware.

Model with 240 polygon and texture Albedo, Metallic and Normal 1024x1024
HDRP accepted